Call for papers

H-ART. Revista de historia, teoría y crítica announces the call for papers for its open-topic section.

We invite all those interested to submit previously unpublished articles in Spanish, English, or Portuguese, that reflect on the history, theory, and criticism of art. Original manuscripts submitted for consideration must be in Word format and comply with the journal's guidelines.

All articles will undergo a review process: first, the journal's editorial team will verify whether the article meets the basic requirements, as well as its relevance to be reviewed. If the manuscript passes this initial stage, it will be submitted for review by two academic peer reviewers and for consideration by the editorial committee. Articles submitted should not be undergoing other evaluation processes nor have publishing commitments with any other publication.

The guidelines for articles are as follows: they must be written in Word format, using 12-point Times New Roman font, double-spaced, left-aligned, paginated, on letter-size page format with margins of 2.5 cm. The total length must be between 7.000 and 10.000 words, including abstracts, keywords, bibliography, and footnotes. A maximum of ten figures per article will be allowed (e.g., tables, graphs, illustrations, photographs, maps, and images); these do not count toward the article's word count, and the author must ensure that the rights of use are in order.

H-ART uses the citation format specified in the latest edition of the Chicago Manual of Style, specifically the Notes and bibliography version. Footnotes should be in 10-point Times New Roman font, single-spaced, and left-aligned.. The first page must include the title in Spanish and English, an abstract in Spanish of no more than 120 words, and its corresponding English translation. There must be a list of four to six keywords that identify the article, in both Spanish and English.
